ABOUT

My name is Manon and I was born in Zurich, Switzerland.

I speak German, English, Italian, Hebrew and French.

As a child, I studied classical piano. Once I was able to play a few chords on the guitar, I began writing my own songs and performing them with my first bands.

I studied vocal development and music theory for a period of two years at the Musikschule Konservatorium in Zurich. I then continued my musical education in Freiburg, Germany, at the Hochschule für Kunst, Design und Populäre Musik, where I studied Jazz vocals, composition/arrangement and popular music. In parallel to my studies, I had been offered a teaching position for music at the university.

I completed my Bachelor of Arts (in Jazz Performance) in Dublin, Ireland, and obtained my Master of Music (in Contemporary Improvisation and Composition) in Jerusalem, Israel. My Master's final project was a creation on the subject of plagues throughout history. It was a contemporary adaptation of music and literature performed in five different languages.

I have been performing Jazz concerts as well as my own music in Switzerland, Germany, Ireland and Israel, and in the winter of 2022, I have released my first album, "Kaleidoscope".
